

As Canadians, we often point to and celebrate our nation's parliamentary democracy as one of the most democratic, open, fair and functional systems of government in existence anywhere. Voter turnout in federal elections ranks among the highest worldwide. We enjoy multi-party participation that allows for numerous points of view and spirited debate in the media and in public forums across the country. This is healthy, and will continue to be so long as the level of public participation continues.

As a relative newcomer to the Party, but now very much engaged, I hope that my experience will inspire others to get involved. Wanting greater involvement with the community, I signed up for the Party and worked on behalf of the candidate in the 2008 election. We came close, getting almost 40% of the vote and coming within 2,152 votes of the Liberal incumbent.

In Mississauga South, as Conservatives, we have an engaged and very talented group of people committed to organizing to elect a Conservative Member of Parliament. Increased support from the residents of the riding who habitually vote Conservative will help to guarantee success. We need your support, whether attending our fundraising event with Peter Kent on June 24th, to increasing our membership base, to simply making a donation in support of our initiatives. Our Community Relations Chair, Raya Shadursky, would be most grateful to anyone volunteering to help out at community events. Check out our website <http://www.mississaugasouth.ca/volunteer> to get started.
